

God's Message To Those Who Love Him In These Last Days

God has sent me to you with this message of hope, the hope that is in Jesus Christ, as we all experience the seemingly insane events that are taking place in the earth right now. Huge impacts and changes are taking place all around us. What do we do?

He has sent me to share some things with you. This is not the 'end of the world', as it may seem, but rather, it's a 'new beginning', a new heavens and a new earth actually. New beginnings, however, start with an 'end'. The old ways don't work or apply any longer. The realization of the collapse of former things and the uncertainty of future things are confronting us all and require something more, something greater in and from us to be able to deal with it. Not to mention the power struggles, violence and destruction. We have never witnessed anything like this before. Nor has any other generation. It's all new! And amazingly enough, it is all coming about from God. He is totally in control of what is taking place, and though it may be hard to understand, all of it is coming out of His great love for us!

The first thing He wants me to share is, that it's time to come out of the world, to 'come out of Babylon'. Reference this with Jeremiah 50:8 and Revelation 18:4. Also, we may have forgotten that the world is the enemy of God (James 4:4). A 'separation' is, and has been taking place for some years. A 'difference' is being made between those who love God and those who do not. The 'middle ground', those who are 'straddling the fence', those who are attempting to have one foot in the world and one foot in the kingdom, are going to have to make a decision, one way or the other. It's time to 'draw a line in the sand', time to take a stand for what each of us really believe.

The second thing that God has sent me to share with you is that light is greater than darkness. We don't have to be afraid of evil or darkness. Fear is a weapon of the enemy of our souls. God is going to help us with this in that He is going to bring about a new and absolutely awesome reverence, fear and respect for Himself.

The world has lost the proper fear of its Creator. However, on a more practical level, the light of God is ever ready and available on our behalf in our own personal struggle with temptation, evil and darkness. It does not matter what has brought us into its bondage, the love and light of God can and will set us free. All that is necessary is to renounce it and to command it to leave in the name of Jesus. We must mean business, though, and stay with it until it is gone. It may take awhile. We will know when it no longer has a place in us nor has a hold on us. It helps when others pray with us as well. It may take a period of days or longer for some things to be dealt with. Don't get discouraged, continue to look to Jesus and to ask for his help. There is nothing that He can't deliver us from.

Thirdly, and more than anything else, the Lord has sent me to ask you to die, to die to self, forever! Our life is meant to be 'hidden in Christ'. In John 17:13-24, Jesus talks of 'oneness', his oneness in the Father and our oneness in them. Jesus left us an example, that we should follow in his steps (I Peter 2:21). Those 'steps' are very important. In them is our pathway, the journey back to God and to eternal life. Everything here is temporary. Everything there is eternal. Therefore, we shouldn't set our hopes and dreams in this life alone, but rather, utilize this life for the preparation and perfection for that which is to come. It's all about laying down, forsaking any life that we could have in our flesh alone here in the earth, what is known as rebellion, and being made new in the likeness, the stature of Jesus. This is where the gift of the Holy Spirit, spiritual gifts, and the teachings of Jesus are so important, especially those called 'the Beatitudes' in Matthew, chapter 5.

The events and the world in which we find ourselves today demand more trust in God than ever before. Deception, false witnesses and lies are everywhere! We are told that even the very elect would be deceived if it were possible(Matthew 24:24). The promises of God given us in the Bible are true. Read them as often as necessary to cause them to become ingrained inside of you. Each of us must come to our own belief in that the Bible is true in its original message. We will have this tested. If we waver we will be overthrown in our minds and hearts with that which is a lie. Yes, this is an intense message relayed with strong language. The times in which we are living demand it.

Jesus is the only way through it all!

Coming to know him is a learning experience and requires a relationship with him. That all starts in an initial spiritual moment with him, either for the first time, or a new experience for those who already know him. Either way, it's about him revealing himself to us. When that happens we want more! He is awesome and amazing! Every step is an adventure, even when it seems that nothing is happening! Our lives are completely orchestrated in him. That began from the foundation of the world. Everything He does is with us in mind. So, if we can overcome everything that has set itself to destroy Jesus, and us, we will find ourselves naturally drawn to the love of God in him.

Finally, trust God in all things.

Give no place to the enemy, and ask the Lord to gather you with those of 'like precious faith', connecting us together, becoming 'family' as we are a part of the 'kingdom of God, on earth as it is in heaven'.

Many blessings and much love to you and yours,
Benjamin
