

October 2015

Hello Family!

Well, here we are in the 'fall' of the year 2015!

Wow! This has been some kind of year so far! In May the Lord had us to stop the regular weekly broadcasts. That was a surprise! And unexpectedly as a result, we began to receive new people into the Knitwork Family. It has been wonderful meeting and interacting with all of them. So, we have gone through some changes.

We haven't been spending much time on the internet nor with the websites in the last four months. Instead, we have been connecting, communicating and spending a lot of time together in more personal ways, getting more acquainted and comfortable with each other as major changes have taken place. Things like, the Supreme Court's ruling in same sex marriage, the ObamaCare healthcare program, and more currently, the Pope's visit and the 'Sustainable Global Agenda 2030', or, the New World Order (NWO).

We also have been busy in making preparations and taking care of business in a further 'coming out of Babylon' in anticipation of imminent economic collapse, war, here in America and abroad, and other things. More importantly, we are intensely watching and waiting for Jesus! We know that it is time for Him to intervene in what is going on in our world.

We are seeing that our 'Family' is getting closer to each other! Slowly, more individuals are connecting with one another. We are also diligently seeking out the pathway of our new beginnings. Still, all of this is new and very different from anything we have known before. In the days ahead we will come to know just how important this family is as we come to communicate and to depend upon each other more and more.

I, myself, am so thankful to God for this family, this new people of faith. Again, we are a people who have never been a people before. We are very well aware that this is no game! We also know that Jesus is the one who has brought us together in a time when so many have abandoned Jesus, and it is no longer politically correct to mention his name. We are not ashamed nor afraid to speak his name nor to identify with him. For he is the only true hope that we have in a dying world.

So, here I am once again, Family, writing you a letter... sending my love and His blessings to each and every one of you. Thank you for your love, care and blessings as well. And as we move into the traditionally most festive time of the year, may all of us experience every expectation that we have in God! Doors and opportunities are opening. Gatherings are beginning to take place once again. The water of life is flowing. I am looking forward to gathering with you, meeting face to face, and all that our Lord has prepared for us!

Love and blessings, Benjamin ben David
